FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
April 2017

JUSTRITE ACQUIRES ITALIAN-BASED INDUSTRIAL COMPANY

Sall, designer and manufacturer of environmental protection, material handling, and workplace safety solutions expands Justrite Safety Group.

DES PLAINES, ILLINOIS – Sall SRL, from the Province of Reggio Emilia, brings a wide range of industrial products that solve many customers' needs surrounding safety and environmental concerns.

"This investment underpins our strategy to better serve our customers within the EHS (Environmental, Health, and Safety) markets. Sall's manufacturing capabilities and product range, which include both metals and plastics, will integrate seamlessly into our industrial distribution and engineered solution sales channels," said Paul Darlington, Vice President for Justrite's Europe, Middle East, and Africa (EMEA) organization.

Established in 1975, Sall's ongoing commitment and technical ability to meet customers' expectations for quality environmental and safety products that improve workplace efficiencies has made them renowned and recognized as leaders in the European industrial and safety markets.

"This acquisition will offer a platform of continuity and growth for our customers," said Stefano Consiglio, Sall Managing Director.

The Sall product portfolio includes:

- Spill containment of hazardous substances – pallets for drums and IBCs
- Modular containers for hazardous materials
- Material handling equipment
- Absorbents

"Sall provides Justrite with a continental European operation from which we can better serve our customers in the region," stated Mark McElhinny, Justrite President/CEO. "Furthermore, we have plans to invest in the talented Sall team, and its operations."
